

Early Years Pupil Premium

Recent studies show that there is a 19 month gap in attainment between the most and least advantaged children by the time they start school. The Early Years Pupil Premium was introduced in April 2015 to support schools, nurseries and child minders to bridge this gap with additional funding. A child will be eligible if they are three or four years old, receiving funded nursery education and from a low income family or within the looked after system, or has been adopted from care. The EYPP provides an extra 53p per hour per child and this equates to £302 for each child taking up to 570 hours of the funded entitlement.
